ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott A. Brown, of Jacksonville, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage October 10, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vangdon, of Woodstock, October 11.

The farmers of East Barre have subscribed $2,000 toward the necessary $3,000 to establish a creamery in that village. A lot is being graded, and the building will be erected this fall.

A pleasure party from Bennington drove to Dover last Thursday in a driving snowstorm where that evening they were treated by the hosts to waxed sugar on new snow, and the next morning were served with cucumbers fresh from the garden of the friends they were visiting.

The selection of Bethel have been notified of the bequest of the late Sarah Woodbury to the town of the sum of $500 to be used as follows: The income of $300 on the town cemetery and of the remaining $200 on the East Bethel cemetery, the Woodbury lots to be kept in repair.

At a fair held in West Burke recently, the Ladies' Aid Society netted $500. The Village Improvement Society will have a fair in a few weeks. This society received this season a prize of $10 from the Boston & Maine railroad Co. for having one of the best flower gardens on the road.

Two petitions in bankruptcy were filed yesterday. Charles A. Lefebvre of Burlington, a baker, has liabilities of $362.33 and assets of $355, of which $35 are claimed exempt. Burton H. Alden, a salesman of St. Johnsbury, has liabilities of $2,041.50 and assets of $200, all of which are claimed exempt.

The total amount of merchandise imported through the customs district of Vermont for the month of September was $274,343. The duties collected on the same were $47,585.56. The collections for September of 1903 were $46,156.52. The amount of goods exported through the district of Vermont for the month of September was $1,197,355.

Saturday evening between ten and eleven o'clock an unknown man entered the house of Ernest Wells of Wolcott street, Hardwick. Mrs. Wells heard a noise in the kitchen, but thought it was one of the roomers. When Mr. Wells returned home the burglar bolted for the door and started on a run down the street. He was captured near Mr. Warren's residence. He had stolen an overcoat and pair of gloves. A policeman was summoned, who placed him in the lockup. A hearing was held Monday and he is now under $500 bonds.

Mrs. Clara Lavoie was sentenced in Burlington city court Monday to serve not less than six and not more than seven months in the house of correction at Rutland. Mrs. Lavoie was arrested last week on a charge of living with Moses Bessett, while she had a husband in Canada and he had a wife in Burlington. Mrs. Lavoie pleaded guilty, while Bessett waived examination and was held for county court, being now out on bail. Mr. Lavoie was willing to take his wife with him to Canada and she was willing to go, but her sentence to the house of correction interferes with the plan.

Frank Stiles, who operates the Lee River creamery at Jericho which is owned by John Leary of Mill Brook, was painfully injured Monday morning a short time after he opened the creamery for business. He was in the act of weighing a can of milk when the separator exploded. Mr. Stiles was hit over the left eye by a flying particle and rendered unconscious for some time. He was taken to the office of Dr. Hopkins at Jericho Center, and several stitches were taken in the injury. Although he will be able to resume work in a short time, it will take several days for the wound to heal.

For some time past most of the individuals convicted of intoxication in the local police court have been committed to the county jail at Woodstock through inability, real or feigned, to pay the customary fine of $5 and costs, says a White River Junction correspondent. The imprisonment is for 10 days. The cost to the state is $16 in every such instance, and as the practice is becoming general throughout the towns in Vermont, the aggregate cost to the state amounts to a large sum. Tax payers are beginning to complain about this feature of the local option law.

A House and Two Barns Burned.
White River Junction, Oct. 19.—James H. Ballard's house and two large barns a short distance from the old fair ground were destroyed by fire this noon. The loss is estimated at fully $3,000.

I have also 25 acres of ground that lies within fifteen minutes' walk of Jones Bros.' shed, cuts 20 tons of hay, that I will sell at a low figure.

This property must be turned into money within 60 days. For further information apply to

RUSH TO GOLD FIELDS.

Sickness and Starvation Now in the Tonopah Country.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 19.—Reliable men returning from the new mining camps of Nevada say there is an over-rush to the Tonopah and gold field country. It is already evident, they say, that there will be suffering this winter at best, and with the rush of people continuing as at present, there is no telling how serious conditions may become.

There are already more people there than can obtain accommodation for late or money. The freight traffic is blocked in an irremediable manner and the place is threatened with epidemics.

APPLES ROT ON THE GROUND.

Farmers Can Secure But $1 a Barrel, While Barrels Cost 35c.

Chester, Vt., Oct. 19.—Thousands of bushels of apples will be left on the ground to rot this fall in this section of the state, owing to the tremendous yield and the high price of barrels. Farmers are unable to secure over $1 a barrel for the best hand-picked fruit, while barrels cost from 35 to 50 cents.
